Action is all around us, not even time stands still.

According to Aristotle, "society exists for the sake of actions," especially at Andrean. Whether going to classes, playing a sport, or getting involved in a club, everyone at Andrean is in constant motion.

Although we see one another in motion everyday, a great deal of our action goes unseen or unnoticed. Through no fault of our own, much of this motion is slight or purposely hidden. You now have the opportunity to see Andean students as you never have before because they've been Caught in the act

Activities held throughout the year were well attended by the student body. After the homcoming parade traveled down Broadway, a bonfire was lit behind the school. The girls joined in the festivities with powder puff games. Breaking tradition, the drama department presented two musicals, Godspell in the fall and West Side Story in spring. You were there, and we were too, and we caught you looking.

SPIRIT WEEK

From bell bottoms to tie-dye Jill Petrick, Scott Dombrowski, Mike Mirro, Mike Kackos, Andy Harsha, and Jennifer Johnson display the variety of fashions from the 60's.

Peaceniks Corey Rongers and Roberta Litavec flash a sign of their time.

Ethan Burnette and Ruben Coria dress in flashy polyester suits on Oldies Day.

Jasmine Lopez and Andy Myroup exchange peace signs as they enter the classroom.

We're Alive with Spirit

September 12th through the 15th was Andean's annual Spirit Week. Spirit Week was kicked off by the traditional Walk-a-thon. Each student gathered pledges and walked ten kilometers on a sunny Monday afternoon. Each day that week had a specific theme, and students dressed accordingly. Many of the students went all out on Oldies Day. The school was filled with flashbacks from the 60's, 70's, and 80's. On that day bell bottoms were still groovy, polyester suits were extremely hip, and leather jackets were totally cool. Other events that week were a parade with floats down Broadway and a powderpuff football game. By Friday the student body was excited and had lots of school spirit. At the pep rally the Homecoming king was announced, and the students showed their support and school spirit at the Homecoming football game against Horace Mann. During halftime the new Homecoming queen was crowned. Spirit Week came to an end with the Homecoming dance Saturday evening.

Junior Jason Martin said about Spirit Week, "This week allows you to have fun with your friends as you enjoy the various activities it has to offer."

Neil Sharp and Romel Swaine decorate the sophomore window which won first place.

Showing school pride, Cindy Gomez, Erica Hein, Chrissy Coyne, Jenny Burgess, and Michelle Negron dress in Andean colors.

On sports day, Rogelio Solis, Lamar Myrick, Alaina Smith wear their favorite team shirts.

Two James Dean look-alikes, Kris Barney and Dan Daves, decide who is more authentic.

Gerry Gonzalez and Sarah Bemish search for their admission to the dance, an Aladdin party hat.

Kim Cain, Holly Cain, and Debbie Huff discuss their plans for after the dance.

Taken to a Whole New World

On September 17, Spirit Week came to an exciting conclusion with the annual Homecoming Dance. Musical Mood-makers set the tone for the first formal dance of the school year. This year's theme, "A Whole New World," transformed the gymnasium into a magical Arabian night. One of the eagerly awaited events was the first annual Homecoming King and Queen dance. Homecoming Queen Cindy Gomez said, "It was an honor to be up there with some of the most admired senior girls." Sharing the royalty, Matt Snawder, expressed his gratitude to his class. "I was really surprised and honored that my class thought enough of me to make me king. I appreciate all of their support."

Brian Glovingo asks Bobby Finn and Shannon Peterman if they are having a good time.

ROYALTY

Homecoming nominee, Adriane Osby, along with her escort Ryan Nagy, prepare to take their place in the Homecoming court.

Patrice Hope and Daimon Clarett cheer on the senior float as it passes during the halftime procession.

Former Homecoming Queen, Kathleen de la Paz, passes the crown to Cindy Gomez while John Jurcin looks on.

Homecoming Queen Josephine, Eliya Rivers, and her escort, Eric Rice, eagerly await the announcement of the 1994 Homecoming Queen.

Cindy Gomez was awarded the title of Homecoming Queen.

Holding bouquets of roses, the Homecoming Court nominees are Adriane Osby, Elisa Rivero, Cindy Gomez, Kelley Rak, Patrice Hope, and Lisa Wefler.

Homecoming candidate, Kelly Rak and senior Craig Tomczak wait to congratulate Cindy Gomez.

With a comfortable lead at halftime, the Andean football team is cheered by Mike Cammarata and Lisa Wefler.

Parading Niner Spirit

On Thursday, September 15, Andrean held its first Homecoming parade in ten years. Members of the school classes and several organizations enjoyed the chance to create unique floats. "It was fun to work on the Drama float with my friends," said Junior Jennifer Johnson.

The procession began at Hidden Lake and proceeded down Broadway to the football field where awards were given to the best floats. The winners included Drama Club, Pom Pons, and the junior and senior classes.

After the parade, students gathered for a bonfire put on by the student council. "The parade and bonfire were fun ways to start the year and show school spirit," senior Hillary Buschelman commented.

Completing the last lap of the parade, members of the Drama Club display their prize-winning float.

During the bonfire, Matt Snawder, Dan Lumbarkovski, John Toman, and David Rusbasan show that Andrean is #1.

The Genie, Jasmine, Aladdin, and Rajah, played by Tim James, Chandrika Sarma, Brian Stuck, and Justin McGuan prove that seniors do rule the school.

The junior float undergoes last minute preparations before the start of the homecoming parade.

Cashing In At Every Step

On September 12, Andean kicked off Spirit Week with its annual Walk-a-thon. After a half-day of classes and lunch, students equipped with waikmen and water, began the walk. Although the day was hot and humid, students braved the heat and walked or ran the ten kilometers to raise money for the school and their favorite organizations. After completing the walk, students topped off a profitable afternoon by relaxing and cooling off with blue raspberry popsicles before going home.

"Even though it was really hot, I still had fun walking with my friends, and I raised money for a good cause," said junior Shelly Cvetan.

Tom Lustina points Scott Dombrowski in the direction of the water tank.

Students relax and enjoy popsicles after the 10 kilometer walk.

Beth Edwards, Beth Moran, Matt Dorris, Hillary Buschelman, and Kim Cain complete the final lap.

DADDY DATE NIGHT

She's Daddy's Girl

Andrean held its annual Daddy Date Night on October 9, 1994. Andrean girls treated their fathers to dinner and an evening filled with music and dancing. Father daughter couples danced and sang along to music provided by Abbey Road. Also, senior girls and their fathers who have attended all four years were recognized and received a certificate. Overall, Daddy Date Night was a chance for each of the daughters to once again be daddy's little girl.

Regan Farag and her dad dance the tango.

While the band plays her favorite song, Erika Anderson sings backup.

The girls ditch their dads to do the Locomotion.

Jessica Powell and her father enjoy each other's company while dancing the night away.

Mom's Best Friend

On Feb. 5 Andean held its annual Mommy Date Night. Sons treated their mothers to a night of dinner and dancing. Enjoying the atmosphere of the Hobart Elks Club, mother-son couples danced to the music of Abbey Road while singing to the tracks from Saturday Night Fever and YMCA.

Later in the evening senior boys and their mothers received various awards including one for four years of attendance.

Matt Snawder takes his mother for a spin to the sounds of "Twist and Shout."

The guys take center stage with the music of Saturday Night Live.

Brent Nagy and his mother slow dance to "You're the Inspiration."

SPRING BREAK TRIPS

Niners Travel the Globe

This year several students had the opportunity to spend spring break overseas. The German Club, led by Mrs. Pete, spent ten days touring Germany and Austria while a group of seniors, led by Mrs. Thomas spent time in Ireland and England.

The German Club, along with students from Colorado, toured the countries, which included visits to historic places such as the Schonbrunn Palace, Mozart's birthplace, and the Haubrauhaus brewery. They were also able to witness the breathtaking sights of the Alps, the Castle Neuschwanstein, and St Stephen's Cathedral. "I had never truly experienced a time in my life where I could become close friends with people who were complete strangers just one week before," remarked Janet Stimac.

The group of seniors and Mrs. Thomas busily explored Biarrey Castle, the Tower of London, and Muckross House. They also enjoyed a visit to the spectacular ring of Kerry in Ireland. However the trip began on a bad note with lost luggage that was not returned for a few days. "Ireland was more beautiful than I had ever imagined — more than any picture could possible show. I hope I will have the opportunity to return someday," remarked Beth Moran.

On the first day, Linda Bacon, Beth Moran, and Colleen Doolin boarded a plane for Dublin.

Before kissing the Blarney Stone Brenda Franks, Tanya Carter, Linda Bacon, Nancy Naperala, and Saritha Gandra enjoy the beautiful scenery.

Debbie Huff, Saritha Gandra, Coileen Doolin, John Jurcin, and Brenda Franks wait for their luggage on the steps of the Waterford Hotel.

Linda Bacon, Colleen Doolin, Beth Moran, and Brenda Franks take a carriage ride to the Muckross Castle in Ireland.

TURN-ABOUT

Juniors Amy Galas and Emily Backe warm up a winter's night with their bright smiles.

Hillary Buschelman and her date David Rusbasan pose for the photographer before the dance begins.

Christine Wilson, Jessica Nadolski, and Matt Snawder lead the electric slide.

Winter Warmth

Andrean's annual turn-about, "A Winter's Night," took place on February 11. Although the night was chilly, couples found only warmth among friends. Enjoying each other's company, couples danced to an assortment of music provided by Musical Moodmakers consisting of hip-hop, alternative, and rock 'n roll.

Taking a break from the dancing, students relished cookies and punch provided by the student council. Freshman Don Burgess said, "Turn-about was very festive and fun. The decorations took a lot of work, and they were awesome."

Karl Mastalski and Sarah Flannery join in the locomotion. Taking a break from the dancing, Eileen Scubelek and Nate Gale enjoy each other's company from the balcony. Mike Cammarata and Lisa Wefler slow dance to the music of Musical Moodmakers.

Tony is held back and forced to watch the rumble between Bernardo and his friend Riff.

Maria and Tony imagine how wonderful life will be after they are married.

PROM

Never Say Goodbye

On a warm, breezy evening, Friday, May 19, the annual prom was held at the Croation Center. Beginning with the grand march, the night continued with the crowning of the royalty. Patrice Hope was selected as queen and Dan Madej was chosed king. Dancing amid ivory and gold decorations for the last time as a class, the seniors were reminded to "Never say goodbye," but instead to say, "Until we meet again."

After enjoying the grand march and their appetizers, Jen Colon and Jerry Gonzalez danced the night away.

Shaun O'Rourke and Kathryn Walker slow dance to their favorite song.

Maurice Noland congratulates Patrice Hope and Dan Madej on being chosen as queen and king.

While waiting to be served, Dan Fagen, Matt Pampalone, and Kelley Jarvis watch the crowning of the king and queen.

Meredith Keyak and Rick Fath prepare to tango their way onto the dance floor.

While the night is young, Casey Felus, Mark Kaminski, Chrissy Hamernik, and Regis Hovanec enjoy each other's company.

Emily Medved and Rick Fath take center stage as a circle of their friends cheer them on.

Safety Reminder for Prom-goers

During May most of the upperclassmen were scurrying around making plans for the long-awaited prom. Amidst all the excitement, SADD was making preparations of its own.

Although prom is meant to be an enjoyable occasion, SADD wanted to remind students that all the fun could end instantly by a drinking and driving accident. With the help of Chrysler, SADD allowed students to operate a car that simulated the drunk-driving experience. On the second round students realized the difficulty of controlling a car when driving under the influence of alcohol.

Also SADD designated a "Dead Day." Certain students returned to classes dressed in black with white faces, representing victims of drunk driving accidents. SADD hoped to remind students that prom safety was just as important as prom itself.

SADD members Jennfer Bryant and Beth Moran prepare to activate the pop-up pedestrians as students drive around the course.

Irene Gomez, Lena Vachirasomboon, and Melissa Hogg represent dead people, stressing the outcome of driving drunk.

Kari Kramer looks into the coffin and sees her own face reflected.

Matt Snawder hopes to make students realize the fatal effects of drinking and driving.

Scott Mihal takes his first lap around the course.

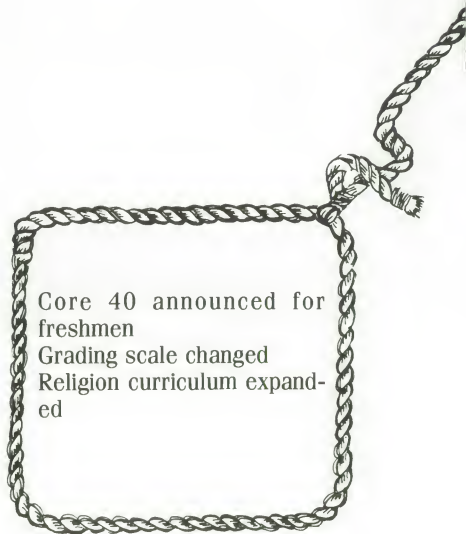

Brian Giovingo makes a sharp turn as he tries to avoid a pop-up pedestrian.

While Beth Edwards registers, Holly Cain and Kim Cain wait for their turns to drive.

A student realizes the difficulty of driving a car while under the influence.

There have been several changes in the academic program at Andrean. Changes in statewide requirements have caused schools to toughen graduation requirements. The state activation of the Core 40 brought requirements up to Andrean's standards. Our reputation as a college preparatory high school has been enhanced with the addition of new classes and elimination of others. No matter what happens, Andrean's academics will remain a tough act to follow.

Boys' soccer was added to the fall schedule, and the addition of a girls' team left everyone scrambling for practice and playing fields. Volleyball sectionals were held at Andean for the first time in history. Pre-game pep rallies, the cheers of the fans at events, and post-game sock hops helped everyone at Andean to catch the spirit.

Miners Leave a Legacy

The '94 football season brought both improvements among the players but also disappointments to the team. On the plus side, the Niners had an exceptional running game. They were able to gain tremendous yardage against special defenses. On the minus side injuries sidelined Tom Lustina, Rich Torres, and Lewis Eldridge resulting in upset losses.

According to Coach Zimmer, "The seniors have passed on a legacy to the underclassmen. They now have an understanding of the importance of preparation."

Reflecting on the season during which he tore two ligaments in his right knee, Rich Torres commented, "It was very difficult for me to be sidelined with an injury. I worked hard in the off season and was ready for my last season. It hurt a lot to watch my teammates play and not be able to join them, but they stuck by me and gave me inspiration."

"I feel that my injury and the way I returned for the Griffith game was a learning experience. It showed me how strong I could be. Instead of feeling sorry for myself, the injury made me stronger and helped me work hard in therapy. Goals are important to me, and I succeeded in what I consider one of my biggest goals: I returned for the final game of my last football season."

Matt Snawder returns a punt as Kris Barney and Bob Avila block the defenders.

Swallow Grapples at State

Brian Swallow finished his wrestling career at Andean with the best over-all record in school history. In his four years Brian compiled the impressive record of 111 wins and only 16 losses.

For the first time since 1976 two wrestlers qualified for the state finals, Brian and fellow senior Jeremy Bilka.

At the end of the season Jeremy Bilka was named the most valuable player, Tim James the most improved player, and the best mental attitude award went to Dan Madej.

Below, Brian Swallow fights to hold the opposition.

The varsity team includes Coach Debbie Malinich, Katie Rak, Christine Wilson, Nikki

Success Again

Led by all-area player Amber Alm, the Niners were ready for any challenge as they sought to defend the regional championship title. During the season the team won the Crown Point Invitational, defeating the host in the final game. The team also achieved a second place finish in the Lafayette Harrison tournament, losing to eventual regional champion Lake Central.

The season ended with a loss to Merrillville in the regional semi-final. Commenting on her experience, sophomore Katie Rak said, "Even though our season ended abruptly at regionals, we really had a fun season. It was a good experience playing with this year's seniors. They showed a lot of leadership and taught us a lot."

Young Harriers Advance

In spite of their youth and a number of untimely injuries, the Niners ran to a second place finish at sectionals. This highlight was achieved in a field of 12 teams. Leading the way, as he had done regularly throughout the season, was Most Valuable Runner winner Dan Uskert, who came in second.

Running in regionals without qualifier Dan Anderson, the team earned an 8th place standing. During this race Dan Uskert was spiked in the knee and was still able to finish 5th, qualifying for the semi-state meet. Although he was unable to practice in the week between the meets, Dan still finished 11th in a field of 130 runners. This was one place short of the ranking needed to advance to state.

Uskert was named to the Hoosier Harriers cross-country all-state team at the end of the season. Freshman Ray Hoover was chosen as the Most Improved Runner.

Team members are John Herr, Tim Sayles, Brian Miles, Mamon Powers, Dan Uskert, Dan Fagen, Tom Hoffman, Coach Jerry Ashmore.

Runners Compete in Semi-State

For the fourth year in a row, Andean runners competed in the semi-state tournament. The trip finished a year of hard work and many memorable meets. The highlight of the year for junior Christine Herr was definitely going to semi-state. Sarah Szarmach agreed that the tournament was the highlight for her, but she added, "My favorite memory probably would have to be the Lafayette Jefferson meet because we received first place."

Awards at the year's end went to Renee Akin as Most Valuable Player and Valerie Price as the Most Improved Player.

Youthful Success

With the return of only two starters, Karl Kramer and Maureen Borto, the 59er tennis team was very young. Yet youth did not hold the team back. The girls ended the season with a record of 12-4. Highlighting the season were wins over Crown Point and state-ranked Merrillville. The season ended with a 1-4 loss to Valparaiso in sectionals. Karl Kramer, who scored the only sectional win, competed in singles play at regionals, losing 3-6, 3-6. "This year was a lot of fun. We all got along great, and it showed in the way we played," commented Maureen Borto.

Carlos Wins Again

For the fourth consecutive year, Ryan Carlos won the Highland Doubles tournament, playing with Santosh Unni. This was the first time in history that any player had achieved this goal. Their accomplishment, along with victories over Lowell, Valparaiso, and Crown Point, helped to create a successful season.

Junior Mike Kackos commented, "It was a great season, and we had a lot of fun."

At the end of the season awards went to Santosh Unni and Ryan Carlos as co-most valuable players, and to Mike Kackos and Rodell Jao as the co-most improved players.

Team Earns State Berth

The '94 girls' golf season started with a new coach Carl Swanson, the golf pro at Bradmoor Country Club. Major victories for the team included wins over Lake Central and Munster. The team ranked 15th in the state, with a single loss to Valparaiso in a close match.

The girls blasted through the sectionals with a record low score, raising team morale. Their second place finish at regionals was a school record: for the first time the girls' team would compete in the state meet.

In the first round the team finished eighth, giving them a chance at the state title. After the second round the Niners were ranked 10th best overall.

Junior Sara Velligan believes, "The tournament gave us a great sense of personal pride and pride in Andean. We look forward to the coming season."

59ers Play in 59th Tournament

Under the leadership of seniors Tom Farley and Jack Degnan, combined with the exceptional play of sophomore Brett Strbjak and freshman Dino Carlos, the 59ers qualified for the state finals in Indianapolis. During regular season play the Niners scored impressive wins over Crown Point, Munster, and a first place finish in the Boone Grove Invitational. Brett Strbjak won third place medalist honors at the Marquette Invitational and was a medalist at the Boone Grove Invitational. In regional play the 59ers improved their last year's finish of sixth place in regionals to second place this year, earning them a trip to Prestwick Country Club in Plainfield, Indiana.

Niners Have Banner Year

When the members of the girls' golf team picked up their clubs to begin play, they did not realize that they were inaugurating an unprecedented year of competition. Before the school year would end, two teams and three individuals would take the Niner colors to state tournaments. It proved to be a banner year.

Under the guidance of pro Carl Swanson, the girls took to the links before the rest of their peers had even bought their books. Working toward sectional play, they grew in experience and skill. As a result of this effort, Marcy Janjecic earned medalist honors with a sizzling 81 at sectionals, and the team extended its season. The girls played in both rounds of the state tournament combining for an 8th place ranking. In January, with the gym packed for the Battle of Broadway, the team members presented their school with the red and gold banner that celebrates their achievement.

The winter season saw a determined, seasoned veteran earn his medal. Senior wrestler Brian Swallow capped four years of unparalleled competition by moving through sectional, regional, and semi-state matches to grapple with the state's best in Indianapolis. By the time his career ended, Brian had more victories, as an individual, than any previous Niner.

Spring seasons brought two young track and field stars to light. Competing in their second seasons as Niners, sophomores Adam Vrabel and Sarah Szarmach proved that the year of unprecedented victories was not over yet. Sarah ran 400 and 800 meters gathering records as the season unfolded. Facing the swift runners at IUPUI, she came away with a fourth place medal running a 2:17.46 800. Adam set school records in shot put and discus as he tossed and hurled his way into the Niner books. As the school year drew to a close, Adam faced the best in the state as the rest of the Niners faced final exams. Finishing a strong 4th in discus and qualifying in shot put (which was thought to be his better event), Adam's performances increased Niner pride.

Finally and appropriately, the boys' golf team surprised only their competitors-not themselves-and closed an unforgettable year of sports on the same courses where the year had begun 10 months before. Fielding a team that balanced youth and maturity, the Niners counted on sophomore Brett Strbiak, freshman Dino Carlos, and seniors Tom Farley and Jack Degnan to take a second at sectionals-falling behind only Crown Point. Rallying in regionals, they surpassed these same CP Bulldogs to earn their trip to Indy.

And so 10 days after graduation, Tom and Jack still carried the red and gold for Andrean.

It's a repeat: Niners Take Gary Crown

When the buzzer sounded ending the second game of the sectionals for the Niners, Coach Buscher leaped high in the air. He realized that with this win over a very talented West Side squad another sectional title was within his grasp. When the Niners went on to defeat Roosevelt in the championship game, the team had not only gained their second straight title, but they also had won the sectional that was reputed to be the strongest in the state.

The Niners had worked all season with the title as their goal. This meant facing strong teams, such as '94 state-champion

South Bend Clay, state runner-up Merrillville, and Gary powers Lew Wallace, Wirt, and West Side. Finishing with a record 19-6 the Niners proved to be a team that showed a great deal of heart with exciting come-from-behind victories.

At season's end awards went to the following:

the Most Improved Player-Eric Cole,

Most Valuable Player and Best Free Throw % -Carson Cunningham,

the Andrean Award-Bill Mulcahy,

the Mental Attitude-Greg Taylor and Rey Jones.

Team Improves

Although the Lady 59ers did not have an impressive record this season, they accomplished a lot both individually and as a team. In Coach Frank Podkul's first year at Andrea, he stressed a good work ethic and teamwork. When the team showed these traits, they did well as demonstrated in their wins over Mishawaka and Griffith. Individuals also improved and gained recognition especially senior catcher Kristy Arentz. Arentz, who will attend Valparaiso University on a softball scholarship, earned a place on the All-Tourney Team at the Harrison Classic. She was also chosen to be a starter in the North/South All-Star Game, an honor never before received by a Lady Fifty Niner. The season ended in a frustrating 1-0 loss to the Merrillville Pirates in the sectional.

Awards went to Kristy Arentz as Most Valuable Player, Katie Rak and Beth Weber as Best Attitude. Kadie Simon was the Most Improved Player, and the Most Consistent was Becky Bowman.

Better Than Expected

After losing 11 seniors from the '94 team, not much was expected of the Niner baseball team. However, the team over-achieved and came away with a 20-8-1 record. Included in that record are victories over strong area teams like Highland and Merrillville, as well as Illinois powerhouse Thornwood.

The strength of the regular season paid off as the Niners cruised to their fifth straight sectional title. Easy victories over West Side and Roosevelt sent the Niners to Block stadium to face rival Bishop Noll in regional play. The game proved to be a pitchers' duel. For the only time all season the Niners were shut out, having allowed the Warriors just two runs.

Although the season ended abruptly this year's 59er team had a more successful season than was expected. Senior Craig Tomczak was chosen as Most Valuable Player and Jake Wright was selected as Best Pitcher.

Record Performances

Boys' track and field excelled in many of their events this year. Adam Vrabel set a new school record in discus and was a sectional champion. Regional qualifiers were Adam Vrabel in shot put and discus; Eric Basista in high hurdles; Nick Felus, 800 meters; Dan Fagen, 800 meters; and Dan Uskert in 3200 meters.

During the regular season the girls' team scored their most significant victory at the Munster Invitational, picking up the championship trophy. Sarah Szarmach won the 400 meter race by 2 seconds and posted a meet record 2:33.7 in the 800 meter race. Nancy Glovingo won the shot put and discus events. Jen Buksar took second in the 300 hurdles and tied for third in the 100. The relay team of Jen Buksar, Vanessa Price, Angela Hardy, and Rachelle Knox came in second.

The team coached by Mr. Tom Perrin ended its season with the impressive and unexpected fourth place in state by sophomore Sarah Szarmach, who ran 4th out of 27 in the 800 meter event.

In his long jump attempt Dan Moisofo flies through the air.

Carrying the baton Jason Robinson prepares to overtake his opponent.

The Andean varsity soccer team includes Mike Pampalone, Andy Myroup, Dan Heclimovich, B.J. Nash, Mike Mirro, Kyle

Moisoff, Dan Cora, Dan delRosario, Jeff Gutowski, Jeremy Cora, and coach Gunnar Andresson.

A Fall Surprise

An impressive late-season win over Merrillville launched the Niners into sectional play. After defeating the Pirates 7-4, the team went 2-1 in sectional play.

In commenting on the '94 squad Coach Reist stated, "After expecting this to be a rebuilding year, I was surprised and encouraged with our results." Senior Craig Tomczak, who scored 18 goals, was assisted in his efforts by the goalkeeper play of B.J. Nash.

At the end of the season awards went to the following: most valuable on offense, Craig Tomczak; most valuable on defense, B.J. Nash, Dan Moisoff, Jeremy Cora, and Dan Cora; most improved player, Andy Harsha; mental attitude, Mike Cammarata; most valuable player, Dan delRosario and Mike Mirro.

During sectional play, Mike Cammarata keeps the ball from the Hobart defender.

Dan Cora is prepared to intercept the Portage pass.

Start a Success

Although playing in their first varsity season, the girls played as well as experienced veterans. Compiling an impressive record of 8-4-2, the team lived up to the high expectations they had set for themselves.

Season highlights came with lop-sided victories over Crown Point, West Lafayette, Bishop Noll, and Highland. The Niners ended play reluctantly, losing in sectionals in two overtime periods to Hobart, the team that had opened their season.

Captain Lisa Rivero led the team on the playing field. She worked well with the scoring duo of Siobhan Sullivan and Dana Fath. The speed of Amanda Krstevski could not be stopped on the dribble.

In their initial season the following girls distinguished themselves: most valuable player, Elisa Rivero; best offensive player, Allison Hruskoci; best defensive player, Jill Hruskoci; 110% award, Julie Whelan; most improved player, Sara Krilich.

Dribbling the ball, Amanda Krstevski makes her way to the goal.

Elisa Rivero prepares to make her shot on goal.

New clubs, such as the African American History club, were formed. Other organizations, such as Campus Ministry, were rearranged and replaced by classes. Student Council organized a club awareness week, which gave the entire student body a chance to check out the organizations in the school. These organizations help everyone at Andean become a part of the action.

"Parenting" for Life Choices
Graduating at the Radisson

Their last year proved to be a unifying one for the seniors at Andrian. The class sponsored several activities including a trip to Fright Fest at Great America, a shopping trip to Gurnee Mills, and a Senior Christmas party. Exemptions, dress-up and dress-down days were privileges that showed the "seniority" of the class. Counting down the days until graduation, fighting senioritis, and making plans for life after high school kept the seniors at Andrian acting up.

Baccalaureate

As the class of 1995 walked down the aisles of the Radisson, they made history. For the first time ever, the Baccalaureate mass and the Commencement ceremony were held together. This was also the first year the graduation ceremony was not held in the school gym. The change in location provided comfort as well as convenience for many relatives of the graduates. The mass was celebrated by Bishop Dale Melczek. Servers Brian Glovingo and Brenda Franks assist Father Quanz during the Consecration. The choir led the songs for the mass, and pictured is Tom Walker leading the Responsorial Psalm. Below, Suzanna Gonzales receives communion from Bishop Dale Melczek.

For the last time in front of her classmates, Michele Krilich reads the first reading.

While listening to the Bishop's homily, Mr. Bennett reflects on memories of the class of '95

Bill Mulcahy, Brian Muller, Laura Muszik, and Jessica Nadolski listen as they are addressed as seniors for the final time.

Commencement

Until we Meet Again

"I will not say goodbye. Instead, I will only say 'Until we meet again.'"

The closing statement of the valedictory speech given by Louis Scherschel ended not only the graduation ceremony, but also the high school careers for the 173 graduates in the class of 1995. The ceremony was opened with a welcome and speech by the salutatorian, Saritha Gandra. Latrice Allen proudly displays her diploma after becoming the first member of the class of '95 to graduate at the Radisson.

Symbols representing different aspects of Andean are displayed by students at the end of the ceremony.

Latrice Allen, Amber Alm, Jason Burt, Erika Anderson, and Hillary Buschelman stand to sing the Alma Mater for the final time as Andean students.

Leading the class procession, Patrick Downes carries the American flag down the aisle.

Senior Banquet

On Friday June 2, the seniors got together at the Salvatorian Hall in Merrillville for the Senior Banquet. This was the last time before graduation for the seniors to come together and celebrate as a class. Here, the seniors enjoyed an evening of eating, dancing, and reflecting over the years they spent at Andean. Musical presentations by class members and awarding of Senior Royalties were also part of the festivities. At right, Kelley Rak and Kim Cain enjoy their last party as Niners. Below, Cindy Gomez, Jamie Qualizza, and John Scherry look at pictures and recall memories from their four years at Andean. Brenda Franks takes the opportunity to capture the atmosphere. Taking a break from dancing, Jared Smith and Marci Vrabel discuss their plans for after graduation.

Displaying his award-winning smile, Dan Madej stands to receive his royalty plaque.

Dancing in December

The senior class celebrated the approach of Christmas at the Merrillville Knights of Columbus hall on December 18. Dancing to the music of Musical Mood Makers, Tom Farley and Michelle Negron share holiday joy. Across the dance floor, Jenny Bryant, Chrissy Heffner, and Kelley Brown get in the spirit of the season. Tanya Carter, Eric Rice, Eric Elvambuena, and Adam Biejski can't decide whether to dance or talk, so they do both. Later party-goers enjoyed a turkey and roast beef dinner with all the trimmings.

Watching the dancing, Scott Mihai, Abbey Brumm, Kari Kramer, and Brad Martens enjoy the holiday atmosphere.

Seniors Enjoy Group Dynamics

Seniors participate in one of the traditions in their academic lives: sociology group projects. After choosing a social issue as their topic, members of the groups begin their research. The presentation may include a movie, a guest speaker, and individual speeches. Cindy Gomez takes her case to Nadia Jackson and Tim Parker on the social issue under discussion. Working together is part of the fun students have while becoming more aware of the society in which they live. Lori Rachoy, Karl Kramer, and Kim Lowe decide how they will present their ideas to their classmates. Later Kelley Brown and Ethan Burnett listen as their guest speaker shares her expertise. Jeremy Cora, Dan Cora, and Santurn Patton prepare to refute their opposition. Students enjoy the change from the normal classroom setting.

Parenting teaches lessons

To simulate the responsibilities of parenthood, seniors in the lifestyles classes carried their Cabbage Patch "babies" with them wherever they went for seven days. Students reacted in different ways to this unique lesson, but their responses to the lesson had a common thread running through them.

To Renee Hardy the assignment showed, "It's a big responsibility, and I realized that I wasn't ready to have a baby."

Ed Giannini discovered, "At first it was fun, but after a while it became an inconvenience to my social life."

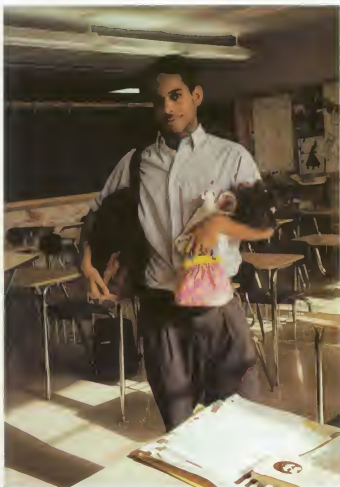

To John Scherry the lesson was much simpler to evaluate, "I'm never getting married; I'm never having kids."

Matt Pampalone diligently cares for his baby as he works on his English assignment.

Carrying not only his baby but her accessories as well, Gerald Mukes prepares to go to his next class.

With his child resting comfortably in one hand, Paul Jarzembowski finishes his assignment with the other.
